Explanations

Our Company has signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Eurasian Bank JSC, one of Kazakhstan's leading banks serving more than 4.5 million customers, to establish cooperation in the fields of financial technologies, digital assets, and AI-powered next-generation banking solutions. Pilot projects have been initiated in the identified solution areas .

Within the scope of the cooperation, our Company will provide financial software solutions in the following areas:

· Integration of our Electronic Invoicing solution with the Bank's systems to enable faster and more efficient invoicing, payment, and financing processes,

· Utilization of invoice data in financing processes, cash flow management, and value-added banking services,

· Establishment of infrastructure for the secure custody and trading of digital assets,

· Development of digital assets integrated bank card solutions,

· Blockchain-based tokenization of real-world assets such as precious metals, real estate, and similar assets.

Through the use of AI-powered technologies across these solution areas, the cooperation aims to automate processes, enable more effective data analysis, enhance customer experience, and develop next-generation financial and banking products and services.

The cooperation initiated with Eurasian Bank JSC is expected to contribute to expanding our Company's capabilities in financial technologies, artificial intelligence, and digital asset solutions into international markets, creating new business opportunities on a global scale, strengthening our international operations, and positively contributing to our balance sheet through recurring foreign currency revenues.

Respectfully announced to the public.
