Explanations

The Board of Directors of our Company has resolved to proceed with an investment under the Ford Trucks New-Cab Program for the development and launch of next-generation cabin models to be used in Ford Trucks vehicles. The investment is intended to support the growth of our Ford Trucks operations in the European market and to ensure compliance with the emissions and safety requirements introduced under the European Union General Safety Regulation and related regulatory framework.

Under the Program, the Company plans to make net investments of approximately EUR 364 million on a phased basis through 2030, of which EUR 122 million has already been incurred as part of pre-feasibility activities.

In addition to the aforementioned net investment amount, a further EUR 96 million investment under the Program is expected to be funded through government incentives anticipated to be received within the scope of the project, as well as direct engineering contributions to be provided by Iveco S.p.A. ("Iveco") under the Joint Development Agreement executed with Iveco and publicly disclosed in our material event disclosure dated 11 March 2025.

The next-generation cabin to be developed under the Program is planned to be introduced progressively during 2028.

Material developments regarding the Program will be shared with our investors in accordance with applicable regulations.
