MID-TERM ACTIVITIES and DEVELOPMENTS

As Kron Technology, we continue to strengthen our pioneering role in the sector with our innovative solutions in data security and cybersecurity. We are committed to providing reliable and effective solutions that meet our clients' needs through our achievements and strategic projects both domestically and internationally.

Our project, "DEVELOPMENT OF A SCALABLE AND INTEGRATED PLATFORM FOR PROCESSING TELEMETRY DATA," which we submitted to the Ministry of Industry and Technology under the 1501-Industrial R&D Support Program, has been approved for funding. This support will accelerate our R&D efforts, helping us to make a broader impact in the sector. This product aims to ensure that organizations manage security and infrastructure monitoring data (e.g., logs) in the most efficient and vendor-independent manner, integrating with other tools as needed. Additionally, it aims to enable clients to control their data infrastructure independently of the vendors.

Kron's Database Access Management and Dynamic Masking product has been recognized in Gartner's Market Guide for Data Masking and Synthetic Data, making it the second Kron product to be featured by Gartner outside of PAM. This achievement is significant for increasing the market visibility of Kron's data security solutions. Regulatory frameworks such as GDPR, CCPA, and HIPAA make it mandatory for organizations to protect personal and sensitive data, and an increasing number of companies are opting for these solutions every day.

Kron Technology received first place in the "Data Security Türkiye-Based Vendor" category at this year's 25th ICT 500 Awards. Winning this award for the fourth time as a Turkey-based producer fills us with pride and highlights our leading position in the data security software sector, which we consider highly important.

Kevin Marvin has been appointed as the General Manager responsible for Kron Technology's North American operations. With his extensive knowledge and strategic growth skills, we aim to strengthen our presence in the North American market. Marvin has previously held leadership and sales positions at global companies like Dell-EMC, Check Point Software Technologies, and Netwrix Corporation.

The Ministry of Transport and Infrastructure published its National Cybersecurity Strategy and Action Plan for 2024-2028 in the third quarter. This action plan serves as a roadmap for securing our country's digital future. Our cybersecurity products, especially PAM, play a critical role in achieving these strategic goals.

During the Public Cybersecurity Day Event organized by the Turkish Cyber Security Cluster, we informed participants from various public institutions about our products.

We participated as a Gold Sponsor in CYSEC GLOBAL UAE, one of the prominent events in the global cybersecurity ecosystem held in Abu Dhabi. At the event, our Executive Committee Chair Ayşe Yenel delivered a speech titled "Strengthening Digital Defenses: Addressing Enterprise Cybersecurity Challenges with PAM," emphasizing the importance of PAM solutions in cybersecurity. Additionally, our participation in CYSEC allowed us to establish close connections with numerous partners and potential customers in the region.

We were a Silver Sponsor at ENBANTEC Cybersecurity Conference, one of the prestigious events in the EMEA region. At this event, our Corporate Business Unit Sales Director Ümit Çelik presented on "New Frontiers in Cybersecurity: PAM and Secure Remote Access."

We also attended our Cloud Access Security Partner İşNet's 25th-anniversary event as a bronze sponsor.

Our consolidated revenues for the first nine months of 2024, after IAS 29 adjustments, decreased by 12% compared to last year, reaching 218 million TL. In this period, international sales constituted 38% of total revenue, with foreign currency-based sales accounting for 52% of total sales.

Our gross profit declined by 14%, from 213.7 million TL to 183.9 million TL, compared to the previous year. This decrease was primarily due to the fact that a significant portion of our sales are either foreign currency-based or indexed to foreign currency, and the currency appreciation rate remained below the inflation rate during the same period.

Additionally, our strategy of increasing subscription sales within our sales model, which is a core element of our strategy, has led to a short-term drop in revenues, but it represents a significant development for the predictability and sustainability of our revenues in the medium to long term.

Our operating profit fell from 53.5 million TL in the same period last year to 7.1 million TL. Financial Income/Expenses showed an improvement compared to last year due to the repayment of a large portion of our loans, shifting from a 7.4 million TL loss to a 3.6 million TL gain.

EBITDA decreased by 43%, from 88 million TL to 50.2 million TL.

In the first nine months of 2024, our subscription-based revenues accounted for 26.5% of our total invoiced revenues, significantly higher than last year's level of 9.6%. This demonstrates the strategic success of our transition to a recurring revenue model and our commitment to increasing customer loyalty. The rise in our subscription revenues also contributes to a more stable cash flow. In the third quarter of 2024, our balance sheet structure continued to strengthen.

Our net cash position, which stood at 37.1 million TL in December 2023, increased to 68.1 million TL during this period. We reduced our bank debt from 45.1 million TL to 21.9 million TL, significantly lowering our debt ratio.
